

Scenario:

You are an antisocial blogger who doesn't have time to find others. You want to be active but cannot hold yourself to finishing an exercise so you want to find a partner or be able to go with others.

Task 1: You want to only join a local event.

Task 2: You want to search for a full tennis match and chat

Task 3: You want to find a single partner for lifting weights and chat

Notes:

What changed

- 1.) Adding a back button to return to other pages and or change options before submitting.
- 2.) Adding an information page on events once selected

What needs to be kept the same

- 1.) The final chat selection page to plan with your selected individuals.
- 2.) The criteria for selecting sports and the optional selection for those who want to add/create their own event or sport.
